

SILVER CRANKS MET
AT MEMPHIS, TENN.THE BIG WHITE METAL CON-VENTION IS OPEN.

Western and Southern States Send Many Delegates—Senator Turpie of Indiana Elected Permanent Chairman—Gist of the Speeches Made By Bryan and Others.

Memphis, Tenn., June 13.—Friends of silver representing twenty states of the South and West began a two days' convention in this city yesterday. Fifteen hundred delegates filled the lower floor and a large portion of the balconies at the Auditorium when the gathering was called to order. With a few exceptions all the leading advocates of the free coinage of silver in the United States were present. They included Senators Bate and Harris of Tennessee, Jones and Berry of Arkansas, George and Walthall of Mississippi, Marion Butler of North Carolina, Tillman of South Carolina, ex-Gov. Prince of New Mexico, Turpie of Indiana, Gov. John G. Evans of South Carolina, ex-Gov. Eagle of Arkansas, ex-Congressman Bryan of Nebraska, Gen. A. J. Warner of Ohio, C. S. Thomas and Alva Adams of Colorado, Alexander Delmar of California, and congressmen and bankers from Tennessee and adjoining states. A permanent organization was effected with Senator Turpie of Indiana as chairman, and addressers were delivered by him and Alexander Delmar of California in the afternoon and by Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania, C. S. Thomas of Denver, and Aaron Wolcott of Indiana in the evening.

To-day will be devoted to speeches by some of the most distinguished of the visitors, and the consideration of the report of the committee on resolutions, of which Senator Jones of Arkansas is chairman.

Senator Turpie of Indiana, who was elected chairman by acclamation, addressed the convention in a long speech, his subject being "honest money." On the matter of the parity of the two metals, he said: "The bullion value of silver and gold, here and elsewhere, has always rested, and rests to-day, upon the conception, upon one opinion, upon one single and simple item of belief; it is an old belief, universally credited, based upon the actual experience of 100 generations of the human race. It is this: That, as there has been in the ages past, so there will be in the years to come, no discovery of either of such metals which, as to quantity or as to the expense of production, shall make them comparable in value with any other materials suitable for the use of mankind as money. There has always been a difference between the commercial or bullion value of the two metals and the legal or coinage value. No denomination of the gold coinage of the United States has a bullion value equal to the legal value thereof. The whole series of these gold coins is made from bullion only nine-tenths fine. The millionth is what is called alloy."

"According to the test of the enemies of bimetalism, that the legal value of coined money must be the same as the commercial or bullion value of the metal in it, nothing could be more dishonest. According to that test there is not and can not be an honest dollar of either silver or gold, nor any honest part or fraction of the same; as for the nickel, it is viler than the dime, and the honest penny is banished forever. According to this same test and rule of coinage there is not an honest coin in the treasury, there is not a piece of round, safe money in the country."

The convention then completed its permanent organization by the election by acclamation of A. B. Wade of Tennessee, reading clerk of the house of representatives, to act as secretary. Vice-presidents were chosen, one from each state represented. The committee on resolutions was named in the same manner. Judge J. H. McDowell of Tennessee asked that some populists be placed on the committee on resolutions, which was done.

The chairman then introduced Alexander Delmar of California, who was director of bureau of statistics and mining commissioner to the monetary commission of 1876. Talking of the scarcity of gold and the necessity for the coinage of silver, he said: "To-day all the nations of the west and all the people of Europe and America are committed not only to the payment of past obligations but also to the conduct of future transactions upon the basis of a stock of gold coins which at the present time does not exceed $750,000,000 sterling, and which is chiefly deposited in banking establishments, liable to be controlled by, and, as many people suspect, actually subject to the control of a private syndicate of continental financiers." The chair then declared the body adjourned until evening.

At the evening session, which began at 8 o'clock, Senator William M. Stewart of Nebraska presided, and introduced Congressman Joseph C. Sibley of Pennsylvania. Mr. Sibley was greeted with thunders of applause, and in a two hours' speech aroused his audience to a pitch of enthusiasm. He made an earnest appeal for independent political action in 1896 and illustrated the necessity of breaking away from the old parties. "We must win this fight in 1896," continued Mr. Sibley, "or we lose it beyond the lifetime of my generation or the one that follows it. You cannot put this fight off beyond 1896 and win it. If the monometallists win then comes the retirement of greenbacks, the forging of 500,000 fifters on our industries. There are other great questions to be considered, but they are insignificant as compared with this. If we lose this fight in 1896 two great conditions are to be feared—the repudiation or revolution. The one or the other is sure to come."

Mr. Sibley expounded the four political axioms which contained the result of his study of the money question. They were: "First, double the volume of money and you double prices; second, divide the volume of money and you divide prices; third, double the volume of money and you double the debts; fourth, divide the volume of money and you double the debts."

At the conclusion of Mr. Sibley's speech there were persistent calls for Mr. Bryan of Nebraska, but he declined to respond. Then upon invitation of the convention Mr. Charles S. Thomas of Denver occupied the remainder of the time of the evening session. At the conclusion of Mr. Thomas' speech the convention adjourned until today.

BLOW TO SILVER.

No International Conference Likely to Be Held.

London, June 13.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the minister of finance at Wurtemberg yesterday declared the government was convinced that any attempt to meddle with the currency would cause danger of most serious revolutions in economic and financial affairs, and as none of the proposals made for raising the price of silver while adhering to a gold currency can be deemed likely to attain the object aimed at the government was opposed to calling an international conference. The lower house thereupon, by 49 votes to 24, adopted a motion requesting the government to use its influence in the Bundesrath to retain the gold currency. It is thought this decision will be limited by the other federal governments and as Chancellor Von Hohenlohe only promised to call a conference if all the federal states agreed to such a course, it is believed that Wurtemberg's refusal will prevent the conference.

AGAINST THE CUBANS.

Filibustering Expeditions from America to Be Stopped.

Washington, June 13.—President Cleveland late yesterday afternoon issued a proclamation, being the first step toward a vigorous suppression of Cuban filibustering. Reports to the navy department are to the effect that the Raleigh will sail for Key West to-day, and will patrol the waters between Florida and Cuba as carefully as possible. The campaign against the filibusters is to be a vigorous one. The Raleigh will be supported by a number of revenue cutters, and in addition to this steps will be taken ashore to prevent the fitting out of expeditions.

Ohio Prohibitionists.

Springfield, Ohio, June 13.—The prohibition state convention practically completed its labors yesterday, but did not adjourn until the ratification meeting at night. The financial plank is as follows: The money of the country should all be of full legal tender issued directly to the people on ample security in such quantities as the people may demand, and to all at a uniform rate of interest. To this end the government should establish real national banks, as it does postoffices, wherever convenience of the people demands. Until such a financial system can be established we favor free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 as temporary relief. A full state ticket was nominated.

Missouri Convention Probable.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—There is a strong probability that the democratic state central committee will be called together again very shortly by Chairman Mauffit, and that in response to the demand of the chairmen of the county committees a convention will be called to discuss the money question. Since the committee voted down the proposition to call the convention, the free silverites have been active in every section of the state, and now have a formidable array of party workers advocating the convention.

Notre Dame Celebration.

Notre Dame, Ind., June 13.—The second day of the celebration of Notre Dame university's golden jubilee was marked by a larger crowd than the one assembled Tuesday. The exercises opened at 8 a. m. by the celebration of pontifical requiem mass for the deceased alumni and benefactors of the university. The church was filled with a vast concourse of visitors.

Bank Falls with Heavy Deposits.

Nashua, N. H., June 13.—The Milford Savings bank was yesterday enjoined from doing business by Bank Commissioners Lyford and Baker. The deposits in the institution amount to $900,000. Of late the withdrawals have been heavy and the bank has also suffered severe losses in the west, where it had large interests.

Don't Want Free Silver.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13.—After a fierce battle the Grocers' and Importers' exchange adopted resolutions against the free coinage of silver. At times the confusion became so intense the meeting threatened to break up in disorder, but the timely counsel of the cooler heads prevented such an ending.

Three More Survivors Afs Found.

San Francisco, Cal., June 13.—A special from Manzanillo says that a letter received by the agents of the Pacific Mail state that two women and one man, all Americans, who were on the Colima, landed at Naraganzastilla, fifty miles southeast of Manzanillo, May 29 and have been nursed by the Indians. The story is corroborated by A. Daana Martima, the customs collector at Manzanillo.

MAY HAVE TROUBLE
OVER THE SEALSUNCLE SAM TO DO PATROL
DUTY ALONE.

Serious Complications Threatened By the Refusal of Great Britain to Help Guard the Fisheries—Our Exports Show a Decided Falling Off—An Important Land Decision Made.

Washington, June 13.—Great Britain has failed to renew her adherence to the joint regulations for the government of the seal fisheries in Bering Sea, and upon the United States has devolved the patrol of this vast area single-handed and under conditions that may at any time give rise to trouble. Beginning early in the year, the state department sought to induce the British government to renew these regulations, but up to this date the effort has been unsuccessful, and now that Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British ambassador, has gone home to England on leave of absence it is certain nothing in that direction can be accomplished before next fall. This declaration of the British to enter again into the joint regulations is ascribed entirely to Canadian pressure, and it is felt that if left to follow their own impulses they would not hesitate to join the United States in the execution of the recommendations of the Paris arbitration in spirit as well as in letter. The situation is one calculated to breed trouble and is the cause of some anxiety to the treasury officials.

London, June 13.—The Bering Sea bill which was introduced into the house of commons Monday last by Sir Edward Gray and which passed its first reading upon that occasion replaces the act of 1893, which expires in July, and will enable the government to carry out its agreement with Russia. It empowers the government by order in council to prohibit seal catching. The act remains in force until January, 1898. In addition to the Bering Sea award in regard to seizure, it empowers the officers of foreign states which are parties to the agreement to seize British ships and equipment when they violate the order. An impression prevails here that Canada will vigorously oppose the passage of the new act.

SHOW A DECREASE.

Our Exports Have a Decided Falling Off—Official Figures.

Washington, June 13.—The bureau of statistics in its bulletin on exports shows that during the month of May the exports of cotton aggregated $9,837,361, which is about $1,250,000 in excess of May, 1894. For the last nine months, however, there has been an aggregate loss of nearly $4,000,000. The exports of breadstuffs during May amounted to $11,809,697, a gain of $1,000,000 over May last year. For the last eleven months, however, there has been a falling-off of over $52,500,000. There was a decrease in barley of over $1,300,000; in corn over $1,610,000; in oats over $1,800,000; in wheat, $16,300,000; in wheat flour, $17,000,000. During May of this year the exports of provisions amounted to $11,971,410, a loss of over $3,000,000 from May, 1894. For the last eleven months the loss on provisions was over $8,700,000.

Important Land Decision.

Washington, June 13.—Secretary Hoke Smith denied the appeal of the state of Michigan from a land office decision where the state claims certain alleged swamp lands were rejected. The lands in question were settled by the state and approved by the secretary of the interior, but before being patented it was shown the original survey was erroneous and the lands were not swamp and consequently not subject to the state's grant.

Student Ohl Is Dead.

Princeton, N. J., June 13.—Frederick Ohl, the student who was shot by the negro Collins Saturday night, died at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Student Cochrane, who was also shot by the same negro, is not yet out of danger, but the attending physicians are hopeful of his recovery. County Prosecutor Stockton will present the case of the murderer Collins, who is now in session at Trenton. Collins' friends among his own race will see that he has able counsel to defend him. They believe his statement that he shot the students in self-defense. It is admitted even by the Princeton college people that the shooting would not have occurred had not Ohl and Cochrane foolishly followed Collins and Downes to Anderson's saloon, the scene of the shooting.

Discontent Permeates Japan.

Victoria, B. C., June 13.—Advices from the Orient by the steamer Empress of Japan, indicate that popular discontent at the submission to Russian intimidation has far from subsided and that further political complications may yet result from it. Rumor has it that Russia is preparing to take possession of Port Lazareff, in Corea, and great indignation is expressed that the Japanese government has taken no active steps to prevent this fresh indignity. In the meantime Russia is pushing forward fortifications at Vladivostok with all possible vigor. The government of Corea seems to be utterly demoralized and Russian gold is reported to be exercising a powerful influence there.

Yale Men Dislike It.

New Haven, Conn., June 13.—The news of Harvard's agreeing to arrange contests in football, baseball and rowing with Cornell occasioned much surprise in New Haven. Yale's leading athletic lights are in doubt as to whether this is a forerunner of the severance of relations between blue and crimson. Many students think that since Yale will not meet Harvard this fall the latter intends retaliating by refusing to meet the former in baseball and in rowing.

HOLD THE CREW UP FOR THEIR CRUELTY

OFFICERS OF THE SHIP "WHY NOT" MUST ANSWER.

British Consul Will Investigate the Leaving of the Helpless Passengers On the Burning Steamer—The Chinese Indemnity Loan Will Be Advanced—General Cable News.

St. Malo, June 13.—Particulars have been received here of the desertion of the passengers by the crew of the British vessel Why Not after fire broke out on board the ship while on her way to the island of Jersey. It appears that fire was discovered in the Why Not's hold Saturday and while the sailors were attempting to quench the flames a bucket was dropped overboard. A boat was lowered to recover it and the captain jumped into this boat and was followed by the crew.

One passenger sprang overboard and swam after the boat, into which he was reluctantly taken. The deserted passengers were greatly alarmed and the excitement among them increased when a small boat was seen to be pulling for Erquay, where the crew eventually landed. Taking advantage of a breeze the passengers handled the Why Not as best they could and succeeded in beaching her near Erquay. The incident has caused intense excitement at St. Brieux, the nearest town to Erquay, and the matter is being thoroughly investigated by the local authorities.

The captain of the Why Not, although not under arrest, is closely watched by the police. It is understood that the British consul here will take the matter up and upon his report will depend further action.

CHINESE INDEMNITY LOAN.

Likely the Amount Will Be Advanced by French and Russian Bankers.

London, June 13.—A Berlin dispatch to the Standard says the Chinese loan which Russia has guaranteed forms a part of the war indemnity and was raised in accordance with the terms of a recently concluded secret Russo-Chinese treaty. Japan has agreed that if $5,000,000 is paid forthwith the remainder may be paid within six years. It is therefore likely that the whole of the indemnity will be advanced by French and Russian bankers, only China hopes to induce Russia to be satisfied with 4 per cent interest.

Pope Preparing for His Successor.

London, June 13.—The Rome correspondent of the Standard says it is announced there that the papal nuncios at Paris, Lisbon, Madrid and Vienna will be created cardinals. The news causes much interest in vatican circles because it will disturb the equilibrium of the preponderance of Italian cardinals in the sacred college. The pope in announcing the fact, said: "We hope thus to create a position more in conformity with papal interests in the world and to furnish the sacred college the means to successfully surmount the difficulty and delicate period of our succession."

More Rioting Expected.

London, June 13.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Times says the English, French, Canadian and American missions were wrecked at Ching-Too-Foo, Kia-Ting, Yachow, Ping-Shan and Sinking. Some of the missionaries are missing, but no lives are known to have been lost. Suifu and Luchow are threatened. A riot is considered inevitable at Chang-Tang. All the whites left Ching-Too-Foo yesterday. A firm policy is now more than ever necessary.

Say She Is to Be Wedded.

London, June 13.—The Mascot, a weekly newspaper, repeats the report which has been denied by the friends of the lady concerned that Miss Frances Willard, president of the W. C. T. U., is to be married in the autumn to an Englishman of wealth and position who has obtained prominence in the work of reform.

Killed by Rowdies.

Stuttgart, Ark., June 13.—Meager advices have just reached here concerning a tragedy which occurred Saturday night near the town of St. Charles, Ark. A fishing party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, another man and his wife and three children, had gone into camp on White river. Saturday night a gang of lawless men, headed by John Kemp, assaulted the campers and began repulsed began firing at them. The result was that one woman and a child were instantly killed, while one man and a boy were injured. In addition to this, Kemp, the leader of the rowdies, was killed by Thompson.

Great indignation prevails in the vicinity of the outrage and a party has been organized to search for the perpetrators.

Hailstorm in Minnesota.

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 13.—A terrible hailstorm struck this city and surrounding country yesterday. Thousands of panes of glass were broken, causing a loss of $5,000 to $10,000. A thousand panes of glass were broken in the insane asylum alone. Gardens are completely ruined. The storm covered fifty square miles, and the damage to wheat is very great, and corn and potatoes are ruined. Reports state that a general storm prevailed in northern Minnesota, and crops have no doubt been greatly damaged.

Recovery Is Assured.

Washington, June 13.—Congressman Hitt's recovery now seems assured. His improvement has been so great that it is now only a question of strength in order to allow his removal.

Fire at Washington, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., June 13.—Eight brick stores, five frame stores, the Episcopal church, and two residences were burned at Washington, Ga., last night.

TAYLOR WILL RETURN.

State of South Dakota May Lose Nothing by His Acts.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 13.—There is no longer any question of the return of W. W. Taylor to this state within ten days. Attorney-General Crawford, State Prosecutor Horner and Stewart of Pierre, attorneys for Taylor and bondsmen, and H. M. Benedict, brother-in-law of Taylor, are in the city and authorize this statement. Attorney-General Crawford told friends the state had nothing to offer except indictment, prosecution, and enforcement of every claim. Statements were made as to how much money Taylor could put up to meet his defalcation and Attorney-General Crawford is satisfied that a schedule of property which Taylor owns or controls will nearly meet the claim of the state. Taylor's representative was supplied with a warrant under seal of the state to escort him to South Dakota, the warrant being for the purpose of protecting Taylor from reward sharks who might arrest him while on the way. Taylor went from Florida to Havana, then to Central America, Dutch Guiana in South America, thence to Kingston, Jamaica, thence to Para in Brazil. From there he came north.

Negro Brute Lynched.

Tyler, Texas, June 13.—News reached this city that a negro named Walter Johnson had been lynched by a mob at Lufkin, Texas. Johnson had assaulted the 7-year-old daughter of Robert Schaffer, and had been arrested and lodged in jail. The negro was identified and as soon as it was known for certain that he was the guilty fiend the sheriff was overpowered and the negro was strung up in the public square before a crowd of five hundred or more people.

German Lutheran.

Chicago, June 13.—At yesterday's session of the convention of the Augustana synod Dr. Olsson, president of the Augustana college, led a discussion as to whether the synod should support a Persian mission conducted by Khashi Moratkhani in his native land. The clergymen favored supporting the mission, and appropriated $300 for the school work. The report of the Ladies' Missionary society showed an income of $2,891.16. The convention will close to-day.

Trouble with Miners Threatened.

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—An alarming state of affairs exists in the Coeur d'Alenes, in North Idaho, owing to trouble between the miners' union and the law and order men, who have organized to protect laborers in their rights to work if they can get employment. A man who incurred the enmity of the miners' union was killed there recently, and the coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide. Gov. McConnell has secured several hundred stands of arms, and over 200 volunteers are drilling here to prepare for coming conflict, which seems imminent. Idaho has no state militia.

Will Demand Indemnity.

Washington, June 13.—The confirmation of reports that American missionary property in China has been destroyed makes it probable that the United States government will require China to make suitable indemnity when the facts are officially established. The reports of losses to mission property in China vary. It is said the indemnity asked will cover not only the actual damage and loss to the American missionaries, but also a punitive sum as recompense for the indignity suffered.

Illinois Congressman Dying.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Work Being Rushed in the Closing Days of the Session.

Springfield, Ill., June 13.—Yesterday Crawford called up his bill providing for the payment of 5 per centum per annum on municipal warrants drawn in anticipation of the tax levy, and it was passed. The governor sent a list of his appointments since the adjournment of the thirty-eighth general assembly and asked their confirmation. Senator Hunter called up the house bill providing for taxation of the unsold land of the Illinois Central railroad. The bill was then sent to the judiciary committee. House bills advanced were: The bill allowing town authorities to condemn gravel pits to improve roads; limiting the time boys shall be kept in training schools. The house bill compelling the placing of flags on public buildings was referred to the committee on military affairs. The house bill regulating the sale of convict-made goods of other states was advanced to second reading. Consideration of the governor's veto messages on Crawford's two bills and Wells' convict cigar bill was postponed. The bill providing for the regulation of department stores passed by a vote of 28 yeas to 11 nays. Mr. Salomon then moved to reconsider the vote by which his bill classifying goods was defeated, which prevailed by a vote of 30 yeas to 8 nays. Senator Kingsbury's motion to reconsider the vote by which his bill providing for the appointment of food inspectors failed to pass, which was a special order, was defeated. The house arbitration bill on second reading was then reached and the several amendments of the committee were concurred in. The house libel bill passed by a vote of 36 yeas to 2 nays. The house bill authorizing drainage districts to issue bonds passed.

The house reconsidered and passed Berry's bill allowing railroad corporations of another state to purchase leased lines in this state, providing that nothing in the act shall operate to authorize the consolidation of parallel lines.

Mr. Miller of Cook called up the Torrens land bill on second reading. Several amendments were voted down. The bill was then advanced to third reading and was made a special order for this morning.

The Humphrey pool bill did not get out of committee, although it was said definitely it would come. Its chances of passage are by no means good, and it will meet with a lively fight if it ever gets on the floor of the house. It will be necessary to have a joint committee conference before the two houses of the general assembly can get together on the tax levy bill. The house bill to create a state board of arbitration was made a special order for this morning on second reading. In forty-eight hours the Thirty-ninth General Assembly will have closed its session. All important legislation is in such shape that it can be closed up at once. Representative Kaiser after a persistent effort got his bill through the house providing for local option in cities under 15,000 inhabitants.

MERCHANTS RAISE A PURSE.

The merchants of Havana have subscribed the sum of $100,000 with which to organize and sustain two companies of cavalry volunteers.

Five men who tried to leave this port in the schooner Candora for Cabanas, province of Pinar Del Rio, without passports and under false names, have been arrested. It is claimed that they were going to Cabanas in order to try to raise a band of insurgents.

PAT PRANKS PLAYED BY THE SENIORS

FUN RULED AT THE MYERS
GRAND LAST EVENING.

Class Day Exercises Were Very Amusing and Pleased a Large Audience Immensely—Art League Held Their First Reception Yesterday Afternoon.

Every seat was taken at the Myers Grand last night and standing room was at a premium. The occasion was the class day exercises of the senior class of the Janesville high school and fun was unconfined. The time was supposed to be 2095, and "Prof. G. Francis Cuddeback" was the prime mover in the fun, and to his "wonderful inventions" much of the sport was due. His chief stock in trade was a magic vapor, "vitamine," which put new life into people who had long been dead. He ground all kinds of things from the big red cabinet that stood upon the stage and eventually Edwin B. Halverson, the president of the class, was produced. An amusing dialogue followed and the professor finally prevailed upon Mr. Halverson to repeat the address of welcome to the class of 1895, two hundred years before. Mr. Halverson finally complied and his tale was very interesting indeed. One by one the members of the class were brought out of the machine and responded to the numbers assigned to them on the program which was as follows:

The Things They Did.
Address of Welcome.....
Class Rhymes.....
Class History.....
Class Prophecy.....
Song.....
Words by Elizabeth Shute Stoddard
Commercial Department.....
Living Pictures.....
German Oration.....
Student Song.....
German Song.....
Burial of School Books with Funeral Oration.....
Class Poem.....
Address to Juniors.....
Class Song.....
Arrangement and words by Agnes Elise Shumway.

All Did Very Well.

All the parts were well taken. Miss Cassford's class rhymes were very amusing and their construction reflected much credit upon her, while the class prophecy by Misses Hogdon and Noyes was a decidedly interesting novelty. Miss Elizabeth Stoddard's class song, sung to the tune of "Illinois" was also greatly enjoyed and won her much praise. Miss Mosher explained the "Commercial Department" at length and in an interesting manner and the "living pictures" that followed were very artistic. "Joan of Arc at the Stake," "Hiawatha and Minnehaha," John Alden and Priscilla, and "Nydia and Glaucus" were presented. Miss Grace Brownell explaining them in an entertaining manner. Henry Cody's German oration was another pleasing feature and showed the effects of careful study. The class' German song came next and gave way in turn to Miss Abbie Atwood's funeral oration, a la Mark Antony, over the school books, which was bright and full of pat illusions. The class poem written by Miss Woodruff was much enjoyed and reflected much credit on the writer.

Miss Palmer's Address.
The address to the juniors was delivered by Miss Elizabeth Palmer and was the best number on the program, it being composed in a patronizing vein that was greatly relished by the audience.

Almost before she had concluded President William Hamilton of the Junior class leaped upon the stage. "Are the Seniors done?" he demanded. "Are they completely done? We think they are; but not well done." Then came his reply to Miss Palmer's address and he made an excellent impression, a vein of sarcasm running through his remarks that made them very entertaining. Class yells in opposition followed and with the class song, arranged by Miss Agnes Shumway the exercises closed. Miss Shumway was highly complimented for her work and she deserved all the good thing said of her production.

The parents and friends of the class occupied seats reserved for them in the orchestra, while the other classes sat together with their class colors conspicuously displayed. The colors chosen by the junior class are maroon and old gold, the Sophomores are purple and white and the Freshmen's red and white. The lower right hand box was occupied by the teachers of the high school and Mrs. J. B. Day.

The class colors are blue and silver. The class pin is of two shades of blue enamel with a silver edge. On it are the letters "J. H. S., '95" in silver.

That the class day exercises were a great success need not be said, and the big audience—one of the largest that ever assembled in the opera house—enjoyed the fun as much as the pupils did.

LECTURED ON THE PASSION PLAY

Prof. E. F. Grieb Interested a Large Audience Last Night.

A large audience enjoyed the lecture delivered by Prof. E. F. Grieb of Milwaukee, at St. Patrick's church last evening, his subject being the "Passion Play." His address was illustrated by over one hundred stereoscopic views and the lecture was exceedingly interesting. Prof. Grieb is a very interesting speaker as the audience of five hundred people who heard him will testify.

STRAWBERRIES WILL BE SCARCE

Recent Frosts Have Damaged the Crop of Home Growers.

From present indications it is likely that strawberries will be shipped into this city for some time to come. A number of fruit growers in the immediate vicinity of the city have had their entire field of plants killed by the recent frosts and are now plowing the land and will raise corn thereon. The loss will be total as new plants can not be set out now and develop sufficient to bear fruit this year. John Smith, who resides on Racine street, has raised acres of berries for a number of seasons but this year, the frosts have killed every plant on his farm.

Wisconsin Fishing.

At this time of the year, Wisconsin fishing resorts are crowded with anglers, for a few days' sport with lots of "bait," Wisconsin has about as good fishing grounds as any state in the union; and we should like to join one of those fishing parties for a few days, but at the rate our trade has been coming we will not be able to get away this summer. Our fifty cents on the dollar of the factory cost sale is no farce, as every one knows who looks at the shoes. Becker & Woodruff.

There is great danger in neglecting cholera, colic and similar complaints. An absolutely prompt and safe cure is found in DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. C. D. Stevens.

THE FLYERS BEGIN TO STIR THE DUST

HARNESS RACE LOVERS ARE ON THE QUI VIVE.

Horses That Are Well Known Here Competed Yesterday at the Opening of the Circuit at Dubuque—Unita Stock Farm String to Be Trained Here.

The trotting races have begun in different parts of the country and Janesville lovers of the harness horse are becoming interested in their favorite sport. Many of the horses that are entered in the Janesville meeting next month are now at Dubuque, at which place the summer meeting opened yesterday. In 2:14 pacing class there were several horses that are well known to Janesville people. Badge, the brown gelding by Silas Wright, driven by Eastman, "The college graduate driver," won two heats, the other two falling to Calhoun the speedy black sidewheeler. Weber Wilkes also won a heat and the race was then postponed. Flask, Janesville people will remember, won the 2:19 class purse here last July in three straight heats in 2:16 and had plenty of speed to spare.

Badge, it will be remembered, defeated Sphinxetta and others in a remarkably hot contest at the Janesville track and did not reach his limit then. The best time made at Dubuque was 2:12 and he can beat that, but he dropped a shoe in the final heat which prevented his winning.

"Tom" Dunbar in Front.

No driver comes to Janesville who is more popular than Thomas Dunbar of Milwaukee. Mr. Dunbar is a clever gentleman as well as a good reinsman and Janesville horsemen will be glad to hear that he won the 2:19 trotting purse at Dubuque yesterday with Salena F. a brown Nutwood mare who has often been seen in the Janesville track. Salena F. reeled off three miles, the best one in 2:17 and beat her field easily.

Trotting is also on at Denver, and in the 2:13 trotting class yesterday Klamath, by Marookus, a horse that is entered in the same class here for next month, defeated Alto, one of the Salisbury string, in two easy heats, in 2:15, and making a new track record.

The McHenry stable is at Dubuque, the Freeport teamster winning the 2:27 trotting purse with Trotwood in 2:13.

Unita Farm Stable Coming.

The horses of the Unita Stock Farm, of Unita county, Wyoming, will arrive in Janesville in a few days for their season's work, and Manager A. C. Hanson is now here. This is a noted breeding farm, and is largely owned by Senator Beckwith. They last year produced and sold Faust, 2:18; Jannetta, 2:20; and other fast ones. The racing stable this year, consists of nine horses in charge of Trainer "Bob" Carnathan, who has to go in the "free-for-all" in the drivers class. Among the horses are Marcus Daly 2:22; Maggie Almont 2:18; Sarah Sheldon, 2:28; and Brent Wells, 2:19; the balance of the string being young horses. They will be given their preliminary work here and there go "down the line."

The Horse Review of Chicago gives John Kelly a compliment in the last issue. Their Fleetwood Park, New York, correspondent says that the way Dudley Alcott, 2:18, has improved since Kelly took him in hand is astonishing and that the horse will go in '15 or less this year. Another fast one that Kelly is training, The Review says, is Norhawk, owned by Nathan Strauss.

H. S. Ames' four year old pacing mare Vic C., is going especially well this year and is extensively entered in her class. She has gone a half mile in 1:10 and will be campaigned by H. D. McKinney.

GENERAL DOE ON BEER AND WAR

The Oshkosh Northwestern Does Not Exactly Understand the Connection

Under the caption "Joe Doe on Beer" the Oshkosh Northwestern has the following editors:

"Gen. J. B. Doe, assistant secretary of war, has been invited to be present and respond to a toast at the banquet of the National Brewers' association which opens this evening in Milwaukee. It appears that Mr. Doe will explain to the association the relation of the war department to the brewing industry. It is will probably be the first intimation many people will have that beer brewing had any relation to the war department. It was generally supposed that the flowing Teutonic beverage was the emblem and harbinger of peace and brotherly love and of song and gaiety. In its sparkling foam is no suggestion of grim visaged war with wrinkled front and huge epaulets such as General Doe is reputed to be fond of. Even the tax on beer does not particularly affect the war department. Whether Gen. Doe, by the title of his toast means to intimate that the attaches of his department are in the habit of rushing the growler is only speculative. In fact a severe strain of gray matter fails to enouch an idea of the possible relationship. Gen. Doe's blunderbuss department can have to have to the brewing industry, except, perhaps, that which the consumer bears to the producer, or the authority which this particular branch of government has to shut off the water."

KINDLY LINES FOR E. O. KIMBERLY.

The Milwaukee Journal Gives the "Soldier Singer" a Complimentary Notice.

The Milwaukee Journal, in that most excellent feature of their paper, "The Badgers and Their Ways" column, has the following: "E. O. Kimberly of Janesville, was honored by the recent department encampment of the G. A. R. with the title of The Soldier Singer of Wisconsin, and was also elected as a delegate to the national encampment with instructions to sing all the way to Louisville and back for the credit of the Badger state. One result of his song on that occasion is an invitation to be present at the Ohio encampment of the order, and in response thereto he left Janesville yesterday morning for Sandusky, the place of meeting."

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

NEW HIGH SCHOOL A MODEL EDIFICE

CONTRACTOR STEWART IS NOW FINISHING IT UP.

The Pupils Who Have Been Attending Their Studies in the Old Building Will Be Pleasantly Surprised When They Enter Its Broad Halls and Commodious Rooms.

Contractor Stewart has a large force of men at work putting on the finishing material on the interior of the new high school building, and it will not be many days before he will be ready to turn the building over to the school board. Pupils, who have not been permitted to go through the building since it has been inclosed, will be most pleasantly surprised in September when they enter the large and commodious hall, recitation and other rooms.

The building has been constructed for the sole purpose of accommodating the high school pupils, and to one not familiar with all the details and requirements, it appears to be complete, with nothing lacking to make it one of the truly modern school buildings in the state. There appears to be plenty of room for all the grades of the high school, so that there need be no interference in class work. The main room is large, well lighted by windows on three sides; ventilated thoroughly, and the heating apparatus appears to be well planned.

Arrangements for lighting the whole building with both gas and electric lights have been made and water will be on every floor, and in many of the rooms. In fact the building appears as a model, and when completed, will appear better on the inside than on the handsome exterior.

WOMEN IN FRANCE.

They Are Not Only the Stronger, but the Better Half.

Women are the stronger as well as the better half of France. They do everything but build houses. The best inspector in the French custom house is a woman. She is in the Havre office, and she has a nose that can detect dutiable goods without opening a lock. She is naturally amiable and slow to anger, but woe to the foreigner or countryman who provokes her ire. There is no sadder spectacle in the republic of France than the woman shoe polishers, who doze under the sheds of the markets and quay, one eye shut and 't'other fixed on the boot box over the way, patiently waiting for trade. They ask 5 cents and accept 2 cents for their unwomanly work. At Thiers, the blackest town in France, the women sit outside of the grimy little machine shops mending scissor blades and polishing knife and scissor handles. The stream that turns the 10,000 little mill wheels is blacker than the Chicago river, and, as the furnaces never burn without belching, the tollers are sometimes Malay and sometimes Mongolian, but seldom Caucasian in color. Not long ago a college woman went down to Thiers to teach school for the winter. The promise of eighty pupils was a temptation, but on reaching the colony of soot-begrimed and smoke-stained smithies she found that the position paid $5 a month, and the teacher was expected to furnish the fuel for the winter.

Real Distinction.
"What distinction have you won at college? You are not an athlete and you failed in all your studies, yet I am told that you have been elected president of your class. How did it happen?"
"Apparently, sir, you are not aware that I have added twenty absolutely meaningless syllables to the college yell."—Ex.

Narcoti-Cure

CURES THE TOBACCO HABIT IN 4 TO 10 DAYS OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Use All the Tobacco You Want Till Your "Craving" is Gone.

Narcoti-Cure is the only remedy in the world that acts directly on the nerves and drives the nicotine from the system in four to ten days. It leaves the patient in better health than before taking, and is warranted free from all injurious ingredients.

Narcoti-Cure is popular because it allows the patient to use all the tobacco he wants while under treatment, or until the "craving" and "hankering" are gone. It is then no sacrifice to throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is sold at the uniform price of $5 a bottle, and one bottle cures.

Money refunded if a cure is not effected when taken according to directions.

PROF. W. N. WAITE,
Of Amherst, Mass. Chewed Tobacco For 46 Years, and Was Cured by Narcoti-Cure.

AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 8, 1895.

The Narcoti Chemical Co., Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Replying to yours of the 1st would say that I have used tobacco for 46 years and of late have consumed a 10 cent plug a day, besides smoking considerably. I commenced to use tobacco when I was only 11 years old, and have never been able to give up the habit until I took Narcoti-Cure although I have tried other so-called remedies without effect. After using your remedy four days all "hankering" for chewing disappeared, and in four days more smoking became unpleasant. I have no further desire for the weed, and experienced no bad effects, whatever. I am gaining flesh, and feel better than I have for a long time. To all who wish to be free from the tobacco habit I would say use Narcoti-Cure.

Yours truly, W. N. WAITE.

If your druggist is unable to give you full particulars about NARCOTI-CURE, send to us for Book of Particulars free, or send $5 for a bottle by mail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

1732—Frances Burney, later Mme. D'Arblay, born; died 1840.

1789—Winfield Scott, general, born near Petersburg, Va.; died 1866. General Scott carried in his veins the blood of a hero of Culloden. He enlisted in a troop of horse while at college. Soon after that he was appointed captain in the regular army and turned his attention to military science. In the war of 1812 Scott distinguished himself for bravery. His command at its close was a brigade, but congress promoted him to major general. In the Mexican war Scott was general in chief, and the honorary rank of lieutenant general was created and conferred upon him for his services in that contest.

1894—Rev. E. C. Robinson, professor in the University of Chicago and formerly president of Brown university, died in Boston; born 1815.

The brewers claim that a large percentage of beer is sold to working men at five cents a pint, and that the profit to the dealer is small. An additional tax of one dollar per barrel would make it necessary to double the tin pall price, which the brewers say, would be a direct internal revenue tax on men not able to pay it. They think that the next congress will find a better way out of the difficulty.

The world's gold output for 1894 was about 178,000,000 and the silver product 150,000,000 ounces. If both were doubled for ten years, it would, in no way, effect money in circulation. Labor, the only equivalent for either gold or silver, lost more money in 1894, by idleness, than the combined output of gold and silver. Plenty of work means plenty of money.

The Emergency hospital in Milwaukee, is having a similar experience to the Oak Lawn hospital short of funds and likely to be closed.

What's the right name for an American trade dollar containing 420 grains silver, worth today 45 cents? Debased coin.
 With 100,000,000 pounds of wool coming into this country in nine months, what show is there for American sheep?

"The tariff is a tax." A little more tax of that kind and a little less free trade, would be a blessing to the country.

If 420 grains of silver stamped a as dollar is worth 45 cents, how much is 412½ grains worth?

UNITED IN A LIFE TIME BOND

McKinney-Sheldon.

In the bond that none but He who makes it binding can sever, Frederick S. Sheldon and Miss Laura Therese McKinney, were united by Rev. A. H. Barrington, rector of Christ church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McKinney, 157 Park Place, at 6:30 o'clock last evening. It was a happy wedding. Guests by the score saw the ceremony performed, and at its conclusion pressed forward to offer the congratulations inspired by true friendship and genuine worth. Shortly after the appointed hour Smith's orchestra struck up the wedding march, and unattended, the bride and groom took their places before the rector and the magic words were said. Following the ceremony the wedding supper was served and at 9:30 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon took the vestibule train for St. Paul. After a wedding trip of two weeks' duration they will return to Janesville and make their home at 155½ East Milwaukee street.

Both bride and groom are well known to Janesville people as the Bower City has always been their home. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McKinney and no young lady in Janesville is more popular than she. Her friends are not of the shallow sort, but are the deep, substantial kind that spring only from hearts that honest principles actuate, and minds that the highest motives control.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sheldon. He is a member of the hardware firm of A. H. Sheldon & Co., and no young man stands higher, personally or in a business way, than he. Naught but good can be said of him, and to know him is to be his friend. A man who is energetic, able, conscientious, and considerate, makes few enemies, while the respect that these qualities generate, is of the substantial sort. Such is the esteem in which Mr. Sheldon is held and in voicing the congratulations of a host of well wishers, The Gazette takes pleasure and pride.

Van Pool-Smart.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smart in the town of Milton, the contracting parties being Miss Effie E. Smart of Milton, and E. E. Van Pool of this city, the ceremony being performed by Presiding Elder F. A. Pease of this city. Both young people have a host of friends both in this city and Milton, and they will go to housekeeping in this city, in a home built by the groom at 4 Oakland avenue. Those who attended the ceremony from this city were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Pool, Mrs. D. Wood, Misses Ida Wood, Anna Lewis, Emma Wood, Ida Lewis and Messrs. E. F. Hall, A. E. Rothermel, W. I. Rothermel and A. D. Cramer.

ANCIENT COIN DUG UP IN PORTER

George Peters Found One Dated 1776—Other News Items.

PORTER, June 13.—George Peters, while at work on a farm here one day last week, unearthed a foreign coin, bearing the date 1776 and the inscription, "Dei Gratia." The value of the coin is not yet known, but may be worth a good deal to coin collectors at least, as coins one hundred and nineteen years old are a scarce article in Porter. Mrs. Ludden is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Fitzgerald, near Albany. Mrs. M. McCarthy near Cooksville, is on the sick list. P. Murphy is visiting with his son John in Chicago. Owing to the dry weather, a good many wells in this vicinity will have to be sunk lower. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Nichols left on Tuesday for Larchwood, Iowa, to visit their daughter. William Cooley of Dayton, was the guest of his son Stephen a few days last week. Will Robery of Janesville, is visiting relatives here. Richard Curran and brother of Edgerton, attended services here on Sunday. Miss Delia Ryan of Green county, is sewing for friends here.

How To Avoid sunstroke.

Many a sunstroke could have been averted, had the person been more careful. It is a very easy matter to get overheated, these hot days. By having a twenty-five cent bottle of Thompson's Wild Cherry Phosphate handy, so that it could be used in place of water, the health would be much better and the heat felt much less. Dunn Brothers.

Closing Exercises.

A carryall will run to the School for the Blind tomorrow evening, leaving the grocery store, corner of Madison and Ravine streets, First ward, at 7 and 7:30 o'clock, and calling at King's drug store on the way. Fare 25 cents round trip.

WHEN we "first opened" people were a little suspicious having been fooled so often, they naturally were. After a few weeks when some of our garments were seen on the street they took courage and the class of people who favored me with their patronage was indeed encouraging. Then came the men who were compelled to go out of town for their clothes, having unsuccessfully tried all others. To the best of our knowledge we have pleased those men who were never pleased before in Janesville in the fit of clothing. Every suit was made with the distinct understanding that if when done it was not satisfactory, the suit was mine, if satisfactory the cash was forthcoming and suit accepted. BUNGLING BURGLARS DO AN AWKWARD JOB.

Attempted to Force the Door of the Store Occupied by F. S. Lawrence and P. S. Peterson But Were Not Successful—Other News Notes Gathered About Town.

F. S. LAWRENCE and P. S. Peterson, 115 West Milwaukee street, were much surprised this morning when they discovered unmistakable evidence that some one had made on unsuccessful attempt to break into their store. The evidence was in the form of marks of chisels or crow bars on the doors and casing, near the hinges, where evidently attempts had been made to open the double doors by first breaking the hinges on one side. In one or two places the marks show plainly that the burglars, if such they were, succeeded in getting a good purchase, but the hinges were too strong for the wood casing, which was split and pried out, or sunken to a depth sufficient to loosen the bar. Messrs. Lawrence and Peterson are at a loss to know just what the burglars expected to obtain in the store as booty. Stationery, music, wall paper, pianos, organs and sewing machines, they imagine, would be very unprofitable for burglars to secure.

There is a probability that the gutters on North Main street from Milwaukee street to Prospect avenue, will be paved with cedar blocks, similar to the pavement in front of the Waverly block. Dr. W. H. Judd is the prime mover in this improvement, and he will circulate a petition among the property holders on the street to have the work done at once so that the street can be put in first class order.

It is claimed that with the gutters paved with cedar blocks and the remainder of the street or road bed macadamized in a manner similar to that now being done at the south end, the street will be as good as any in the city. Dr. Judd is very confident that he can secure a large majority of property owners to favor this improvement.

STOLE MISS EMORY'S PURSE.

A Former Janesville Woman Is Robbed in Chicago.

Janerville friends of Miss Nora Emory will be interested in the following from the Chicago Tribune: "Miss Nora Emory, cashier at the Casino, was yesterday engaged in conversation with Manager Edwards at her desk. In the office were several other people. A boy came in and stood near Miss Emory's desk. After waiting a few moments he approached Mr. Edwards and made application to him for employment. Receiving no encouragement the boy withdrew and Miss Emory sought her purse, containing $13 in money, keys, memoranda, and the usual feminine trinkets, but it had disappeared. A description of the boy has been furnished the police, while Miss Emory is using another latch key and borrowing to avoid breaking locks at home."

MILL HANDS GO BACK ON MONDAY MORNING

STRIKE AT THE FACTORY IS AT AN END.

Conference of a Committee of Employees With Manager Heller This Morning Results in An Arrangement That the Union Will Probably Ratify At Their Next Meeting.

The strike of the cotton factory employees is ended, or will be when the union meets again.

This fact was announced as the result of a conference held this morning between a committee of the employees and Manager Heller. The meeting was held at the office of the company on North Franklin street, the employees being represented by a committee consisting of Charles Gokey, Thomas Cherry, Luther Fish and John Cooch. Realizing that the company was unable at this time to advance the wages as demanded, and that a large number desired or had returned to work at the old schedule of wages, the committee proposed on behalf of the employees, that all would return to work at the old wages paid at the time of the strike, provided that the company started work at the upper factory, so that all could return. Mr. Heller at once consented to this, and the conference broke up with all parties feeling in the best of humor.

The lower factory is running today with but half the usual force, but tomorrow morning a full force will be at work. The bell at the upper factory will ring on Monday morning and all hands will go to work the same as though there had been no walk-out. The agreement of the committee with Mr. Heller will be submitted to a meeting of the employees, which will probably be held tomorrow evening, and it is claimed, they will approve the same with little or no opposition.

"A committee from the employees called on us this morning," said Mr. Heller. "Mr. Gokey asked us to open the upper factory in order that all the employees might return to work. We agreed to this. Some of the hands desired to return at once, but after considering all the surroundings, we concluded to give notice that the upper factory would be open on Monday morning. All the former help can return if they choose to do so. The lower factory is now running with fully one-half of the hands, and tomorrow morning we think a full force will be at work."

Mr. Heller further stated that he understood from the committee that their action in agreeing to return to work would have to be submitted to a meeting of the employees, but they had no doubt but it would be ratified.

FIDELITY OF A NEGRO.

The Old Man Was Ever Faithful to "Mars Tom" of His Youth.

"I saw a pathetic instance at Greensboro of a negro's fidelity," said W. L. Williams, a traveling man. "About ten miles from the town I saw a grave with a marked slab at the head. Seated near it was an old negro with a bunch of flowers, which he was placing on the mound. I stopped my horse and spoke to the darkey.

"Whose grave is that, uncle?" I asked.

"Mars Tom's, boss. I'm his nigger."

"Oh, no; you are no man's nigger now. Didn't you ever know you were free?"

"Dunno nuffin 'bout dat, sah. I see Mars Tom's nigger, sah, an' he's waitin' foh me suah up dah. Dese han's done tote him frum dat place dey call Shiloh, an' he died while I wah a-totin' 'im; jest closed he eyes an' went to sleep, an' when I comes ter cross de ribber ob Johdan he jest hol' out his han's an' tells de angel at de gate who I be an' he let me in. I dreamed 'bout it las' night, boss."

"I was interested in the old fellow and wanted to hear his story. The slab at the grave told me it was that of 'Col. Tom Winn, killed at the battle of Shiloh,' and I questioned the faithful negro further:

"Were you with him when he was killed?"

"I was right dar, boss. Done pick 'm up an' tote 'm to dat place dey call Corinth; den I foun' a train, got to de place dey call Chattanooga; de nex' day we wah in Atlanta. Mars Tom den in glory. Dis heah nigger left to ten' his body. Dey buried 'im when I got 'im heah, an' dis nigger jest left to ten' his grave an' keep de flowers hyah."

"I found upon inquiry that the story was true, and for a quarter of a century the faithful negro has done nothing but attend the grave of his young master, whose body he brought from Northern Mississippi to Central Georgia."

AMERICA A RAILROAD SCHOOL.

Russian Officials Coming to Get Points for the Siberian Railroad.

Among the arrivals in San Francisco on the steamer Pekin from the Orient recently were two officials of the trans-Siberian railway, who have come to America to study the railway and ferry systems of the country. G. Adadvoran, one of the party, is chief engineer of the big Siberian railway, and P. Sokolou, who accompanies him, is the vice president of the board of directors. They have a letter of introduction from Secretary Gresham to the presidents of all the large railroads in the country, and they will travel in search of information which they expect will prove valuable in the operation of the Siberian road. They are more interested in ferries than in railroads, however, for the establishment of a line of ferry steamers on the Amoor river is contemplated, and the visitors say they want the advantage of the experience of Americans in such matters.

"One of the most interesting features of the government railroad across Siberia to Vladivostok," said Mr. Sokolou, "will be the ferry system on the Amoor river. We expect to operate the steamers throughout the winter with the aid of some contrivance to be placed on the boats to break the ice. Our ideas on that matter are not perfected. We are now studying it."

The two officials expect to visit the locomotive works in the Eastern states with a view, possibly, of adopting the American locomotive for use on the Siberian railway. They expect to adopt many American ideas. Mr. Langarda, a photographer, and secretary to the two officials, is with the party.

Hard to Please.

Kicker, at stamp window, summer of 1893—It's a darned shame to try to work off the big, ugly Columbian stamps on the people! It takes two men and a boy to lick one of 'em, and they're no good, anyhow. Take these back and give me some red ones. Same Kicker, at stamp window a year and a half later—No Columbian stamps at all! You ought to have put a lot of them away when the government quit printing them. You might have known there would be a demand for them from fellows that want them for relics and forgot to save any themselves. They were the best-looking stamps that were ever turned out, anyhow. You haven't got any at all? It's a darned shame!

DRESS NOTES.

Dresses Garnished With Flowers—Plaid Silks and Changeable Taffetas.

This is indisputably a season of trimmings of flowers, ribbons, buttons, braid, lace, embroidery, and all these may be employed in the adornment of a single dress without any approach to bad taste in over-elaboration. Of course it must be done with exquisite taste, or the effect will be wonderfully ostentatious and insistent, or it need not be done at all, for simply constructed dresses are as fashionable as those much trimmed. It is quite a matter of suiting individuals, for some women look their best with the least possible amount of trimming, while others require a great deal in order to secure a good effect.

This year's dress, whether viewed collectively or individually, is extremely bright and cheery and pretty, calculated to have an enlivening effect on the spirits, and therefore by no means without its weight in the adjustment of social doings. Bright colors have always a charm for the eye if they are well arranged and not too insistent, and this season they greet the eye on every side in hats and bonnets and gowns and blouses.

Plaid silks, changeable taffetas and crepons are the materials of the season. In addition to these mohair is much worn, in all tints. This goods, like crepon, varies much in quality and price. Its stiffness and spring make it suitable for the present expansive style of dress, and as it is light, cool and does not retain dust there is no lack of reasons for its position of favor. The finer weaves are mixed with silk and are beautifully smooth and glossy. Gowns of this material are plain or trimmed with guipure. Mohair petticoats also occupy a prominent position in fashionable esteem. They are ornamented with silk ruffles and ribbon bows, or for harder service with moiree flowers.

The illustration shows an extremely pretty gown of very light beige cloth. The skirt, ample around the foot, is adorned by two wide, pointed bands of embroidery and braiding. The bodice is covered with similar embroidery and braiding. A belt of cherry silk is fastened in front with a bow. The toque accompanying the gown is entirely of flowers, with an aigret bow of cherry taffeta. JUDIC CHOLLET.

ITEMS OF FASHION.

Summer Headgear—Big Bows—Costly Orchids and Irises.

Judging by present appearances, orchids and irises are to be the favorite floral garniture of the season. One thing is to be said in their favor, which is that cheap imitation will not interfere with their fashionable reputation. An orchid, particularly those of the small, rare varieties, is not an easy flower to imitate, and to do so in cheap material and by unskilled hands is simply impossible. Some of the French sprigs are marvelously faithful to nature.

Immense bows are the accepted fashion in Paris and overwhelm many of the newest hats. Blue hats with a profusion of green trimmings are another craze, and hats, also blue, trimmed almost entirely with cornflowers, which are exceedingly pretty for those who have a complexion in keeping. Perhaps an immaculate complexion was never needed more than at the present time, when bright colors and daring contrasts are the rule in affairs of the wardrobe.

Plateaus of straw, bent and twisted as were the felt and velvet plateaus of last winter, are seen among the summer varieties of headgear, and when woven of fine, round green straw, like grass stems, are exceedingly pretty and pliable. The most appropriate trimming for these rustic looking hats would be flowers naturally, although velvet, ribbon and feathers are sometimes employed.

Nearly all the thin summer capes and wraps are finished around the neck with a thick, wide ruche of ribbon, chiffon or lace. This is becoming, but unseasonable.

Flowers have been used for millinery, for boas and other accessories and for adorning ball gowns hitherto, but they are now seen as part of the trimming of "dress up" day gowns, entering boldly into the trimming of the corsage. They are used in a tint near that of the gown rather than in abrupt contrast.

The hat shown in the illustration is of black rice straw. The brim is slightly curled, and under the front and left side are placed a spray of roses with leaves and buds and an immense mauve and violet pansy. A black ostrich tip terminates this trimming at the back, and with another one placed at the right frames the knot of hair. The crown is of plaited black gauze, with two choux, and three black plumes finish the ornamentation. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BIGGEST BRONZE CASTING.

It Is a Memorial to the Founder of the Children's Aid Society.

The largest bronze casting ever made in the United States has just been successfully completed at the foundry of A. T. Lorme, in Forsyth street, says New York World. It was designed by Architect Leopold Eidlitz and was modeled by Ellin, Kitson & Co. It is a memorial to Charles Loring Brace, who was the founder of the Children's Aid society, and is to be erected on the corner pier of the second story of the newsboys' lodging house. It is in the form of a Gothic tablet, with a circular opening in the center, in which will be placed a marble bust of the philanthropist in whose memory it is erected. The height of the casting, which was done in one piece, is 10 feet 6 inches. It is 5 feet 6 inches wide, and the relief is a full 12 inches. Three thousand pounds of standard bronze metal were used in making this handsome memorial. The casting was begun at 6 a. m. day before yesterday and was not completed until the middle of the afternoon. An heroic sitting statue of Peter Cooper, by St. Gaudens, is also finished in bronze in this foundry, but is kept carefully concealed behind a draping of white cloth, the sculptor having given positive orders that "not a soul shall see it" until it is unveiled in public. Mr. Lorme resisted the touching appeal of a World reporter to lift up a corner of the cloth, saying: "Mr. St. Gaudens would throw me in my own furnace if I did so."

An Unreasonable Request.

"Would you die for me, dearest?" asked her lover, pressing her to him fondly.

"Yes, George," she answered, "I would do anything for you."

"Well, then," said George, "give up wearing bicycle bloomers."

"George," said the beautiful girl, arising, tremulous with indignation, "you have sought to trick me into a promise which I can never make. All is over between us!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Case of Mr. Spudkins.

Cumso—They say that poor Spudkins left his family in want.

Fangle—It's true. He belonged to so many protective orders that it impoverished him keeping his dues paid up.

"Didn't they do anything for him when he died?"

"Yes, indeed! They gave him the finest funeral this vicinity has seen in a year."—Puck.

HELPING HIM ALONG.

One time a bashful suitor said
He'd ask the maiden of his choice
If she— Just here his courage fled,
And quavers trembled in his voice.
Still once again he went to work
To indicate his longings vain
And said, "I fear I'm like a cork
That holds some jubilant champagne."
"Ah," laughed the maid with rosy hue,
As passion brought him to a stop,
"I understand you fully. You Must be drawn out before you'll pop."

ZETTE.

Upon the posters which hung on the outside of the carriage she was styled "Mlle. Antonia, Somnambule Extralucide."

Her mother called her Zette—her real name was Suzanne.

She was a pretty girl, not very large, with fair complexion and long black hair that she let float about her during her consultations, though ordinarily she wore it in a loose coil upon the nape of a neck that was perfect.

Never having done much work, her hands were delicate and well shaped. She was enough of a coquette to wish to keep them so. She had a finely modeled form, and to have seen her simply dressed in some quiet color, with the gait of a wise little workwoman, one would never have suspected her strange calling.

Her mother, Mme. Floury was as little like others of her class as her daughter. About her there was nothing in common with the shrews who frequent fairs in red dresses and soiled skirts. She had the air of a little merchant who was good and proper, with a winning, honest smile, and people stopped before the carriage and even entered there (without thinking of the charlatanism on the posters) in order to see the interior of this small dwelling that smelled so sweet.

The vehicle was painted brown, with a thread of gold running the lengths of the pilings. There was a tiny balcony in front of it, and on this balcony convolvulus and nasturtium vines, planted in boxes, twined about wires up to the roof, where they clustered in bright hued bunches.

Along the route persons stared in amazement at this queer coach all covered with garlands of flowers.

The two women were always together, but associated very little with their neighbors. They were not proud, and having the best of hearts were the first to offer to care for a sick child or to give to others in distress. Indeed the foreigners who knew them well loved them sincerely, even though they did feel somewhat oppressed by what they termed "their grand manners."

There was, however, some one who was all devotion to Zette and her mother.

It was a young gymnast of two and twenty in a large traveling circus that had very nearly the same itinerary as Mme. Floury. His name was Jacques, but on the playbills they spelled it Jack. He was exceedingly handsome and of no common type. There was fire in his eyes and much intelligence in his smile. There was, too, much tenderness in this same smile, especially when he spoke to Zette. His love for this pretty brunette—so unlike any other woman he had seen about him in his wandering life—was very sincere.

Near her he felt himself quite another man to what he was in the circus. There was such an atmosphere of honesty surrounding Zette that his own manners, when with her, were altogether different from what they had been, and he was astonished at how well they became him.

Then, too, he had dreamed of being loved by this sweet girl and of never being separated from her. Their positions accorded admirably. His salary was good, and some day perhaps he might enter one of the great circuses of Lyons or Paris. It would be charming to find so sweet a little wife awaiting his coming after his work was done.

He had often spoken to Zette of these plans. He loved her so dearly that it could not be possible she did not love him at least a little.

Zette always listened silently, visibly touched by what she heard, and he thought each time she would say "Yes," but when he had finished by asking, with such pleading in his eyes, "Will you be my wife, Zette?" she replied very gravely, "No."

Then Jacques would be astonished. Why not? Could it be that she did not believe him when he said he loved her; that she had no confidence in him; that she did not love him?

"Yes, I love you," Zette answered sweetly, "but I do not wish to marry you."

And she would never say why.

One day, however, Mme. Floury blamed her for refusing the hand of this brave lad.

"Listen, mother," she said. "I adore Jacques, and I believe I shall always remain single because I do not wish to marry him. Do you remember the day when we went together to the circus? I saw as we entered how all the women who were there turned their longuettes toward him, and afterward they smiled and talked about him and tried to attract his attention by applauding him. I ought perhaps to have been proud to think that this man whom they all wanted loved me, and that I had only to say the word to be his wife. Ah, well, in my heart there was nothing but jealousy. I wanted to tear the longuettes away from those women. From what I suffered that evening I understood how much more I might suffer if we were married. No, that cannot be. He is too handsome. See? Suppose some day, when he had grown tired of me, one of those women should take him from me. I would die surely. You know now, mother, why I cannot say yes."

But notwithstanding this obstinate refusal, which he could not explain, Jacques came every day. He no longer mentioned the subject to Zette, understanding that he was contending against a fixed resolve, except once when he said to her: "You will not have me, Zette, and I do not wish any other woman. Some day, though, you may change your mind, and then you need only hold out your hand and say to me, 'Let us be married, and it will make me happy.'"

So after thus simply settling the affair Jacques was like a brother in the house. It was he who in the springtime planted the seeds in the boxes upon the little balcony. It was he who twined the tendrils about the wires, and it was he who at all seasons furnished the gilded porcelain vases that held the flowers.

These flowers were a great luxury to Zette.

This state of things did not long continue, however. The young girl was now 20 and Jacques 26. One evening he presented his friends with tickets to the circus. It was the last day of a long continued fair, and Zette and her mother had nothing to do. So they decked themselves in their best and went early.

Mme. Floury was much amused with the horses, the rope dancers, the clowns, the trained dogs. Zette thought only of Jacques, whose name on the programme occupied a line to itself, and whose apparatus was hanging up at the top of the high tent. The latter consisted of bars, with copper balls that shone, a maze of trapezes, ropes and pulleys, and the young girl, a little frightened, inquired if it all was secure.

At last the first part of the performance was over, and keeping time to a slow waltz Jacques appeared. He was as beautiful as a god in his silk tights, that displayed to advantage his superbly molded form, and, for the rest, his costume consisted of a black satin caecoon, spangled with gold.

After having responded by a bow to the applause of the crowd and by a smile to Zette's smile, he darted up a rope to his trapeze.

The preliminaries were gone through with amid prolonged bravos, for the handsome gymnast was a favorite, and it was truly a pleasure to see him act—the supple body so pliant, yet so marvelously exact in its movements.

Then there came silence—even the orchestra was still.

It was to be the hit of the evening and a new feat that was to give an added glory to the circus. He was to leap from one trapeze to another, with his face and head covered, then suddenly drop from this giddy height upon a net stretched below him. The two trapeze were swinging with a regular movement. Jacques, standing on a little board, his head enveloped in a black velvet bag, put forth his hand blindly. The crowd held its breath. The man was going to jump—he had jumped!

A piercing cry rent the air. Missing the second trapeze, which had been badly regulated, Jacques fell to the net, but it proved too frail to support his weight, and striking upon the seats he rolled to the ground, where he lay motionless.

With a cry of horror, Zette sprang to her feet, rigid and pale, her eyes fixed upon the spot where the men were now carrying away the apparently lifeless body of her friend.

Then suddenly seizing her mother's arm, "Come," she said in a hollow voice.

Breaking through the crowd, the two women reached the stables, but were refused admission. For a long while they remained at the entrance, listening to what was said around them, but no one knew anything. Finally Mme. Floury saw a clown whom she recognized as one of Jacques' friends. He was just coming out of the refreshment room when she called him.

"The net broke the force of the fall," said the man, whose face looked troubled, even under the paint. "The doctor says he will be lame for life, and that this ends for him his profession as a gymnast. Poor fellow! But he has something laid up for a rainy day."

Mme. Floury looked at Zette. She was very pale, and her eyes were fixed upon the man as he spoke as though trying to find if he lied. At last she said, "Let us go."

And thanking the clown by a gesture she left the circus.

The two women did not speak as they traversed the grounds of the fair, and they were still silent as they ascended their own little stairway. But when Mme. Floury had lighted the candle she saw Zette sitting beside the bed, with a strange smile on her lips. She felt frightened for her and went to her.

"Of what are you thinking, little daughter?" she asked, trying to reassure herself.

Then Zette laid her head upon her mother's shoulder, with a childlike gesture.

"I think—that now I can marry Jacques," she told her.—From the French in Romance.

Their Trilby Club.

They were a party of gushing young girls.

"Oh, say," began the one in blue ribbons, "I've a splendid idea. Let's organize a Trilby club."

"Oh, yes," chimed in the others, "that would be delightful. How shall we manage?"

"Why," said the first speaker, "we'll all wear Trilby hats, and Trilby shoes, and Trilby gowns, and we'll sing Trilby songs and jabber French phrases along with our English, the way Trilby did, and—"

The prim girl at the edge of the group listened eagerly at first, but as the plan unfolded an expression of disgust and horror crept over her face. She could now contain herself no longer and interrupted with:

"Dress just like Trilby! Indeed I won't, and I'm astonished that any of you should propose such a thing. Is it possible that you are all ambitious to become living pictures?"—Buffalo Express.

She Knew Him.

"He will turn the tables on you if you are not careful," said one woman to another, who was berating her husband.

"Turn nothing!" she exclaimed.

"He's so lazy he wouldn't turn a table if it was on rollers."—Detroit Free Press.

MONEY MADE AT HOME.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235.35; the month before $186.50 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. The Perfection, for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O, Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. ALICE O.

Snow Good for Tea.

The best tea in Japan is raised in districts where snow often falls to the eaves of the houses. Many plants will survive under such snow that are not hardy even in the southern states. By the same rule some varieties of Japanese lilies will survive Vermont winters that are not hardy in Missouri.

ECZEMA

From early childhood until I was grown my family spent a fortune trying to cure me of this disease. I visited Hot Springs and was treated by the best medical men, but was not benefited. When all things had failed I determined to try S.S.S. and in four months was entirely cured. The terrible eczema was gone, not a sign of it left. My general health built up, and I have never had any return of the disease.

I have often recommended S.S.S. and have never yet known a failure to cure. GEO. W. IRWIN, Pa. Never fails to cure, even when all other remedies have. Our treatise on blood and skin diseases mailed free to any address. SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Struck by Lightning.

Muskegon, Mich., June 13.—The Free Methodist camp-meeting for this district is located near Ravenna in this county. Yesterday Mrs. Earleson was struck by lightning and killed. Mrs. Hilliard, who was in the same tent, was seriously injured and may die. Will Hilliard, her son, aged 21 years, was struck on the hip, and, though severely injured, mounted a horse and rode to Ravenna for help. Besides the injured there were in the tent Mr. Hilliard and his daughter Ada, aged 13 years. These were all severely shocked. Those in the adjoining tents were stunned for a moment by the explosion, but soon recovered.
